NTR's Beginnings

- Founded in 1974, NTR originally helped community people use video cameras to express themselves.
- In 1983, NTR began helping nonprofit groups to set up computer bulletin boards and use email services.
- Today, NTR continues to help low-income people acquire and use modern communication technologies.

NTR serves low-income people in the Delaware Valley by

- recycling used computers,
- providing hands-on training,
- assisting community-based organizations to use computers in serving their neighbors, and
- developing the regional Community Technology Centers Network.

Fast Facts About NTR

- Over 225 children received free computers through NTR programs last year with help from generous financial donors.
- Nearly 800 additional low-cost computers were placed with nonprofit groups or low-income families last year.
- Individuals, businesses, and government agencies have donated over 15,000 computers to NTR since 1996.
- NTR has placed nearly 6,000 computers with nonprofit groups or low-income people since 1996.
- Over 7,500 computers have been responsibly recycled by NTR since 1996.
- NTR offers free training in maintaining and upgrading computer equipment to everyone who obtains a computer through our programs.
- NTR leads a network of over 300 community groups who are building community-based technology education programs.

The official registration and financial information of Nonprofit Technology Resources may be obtained from the Pennsylvania Department of State by calling toll-free, within Pennsylvania, 1-800-732-0999. Registration does not imply endorsement.
